THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

The First Manifesto of the Chase Men. WASHINGTON, D. C., February, 1864.
The movements recently made throughout the country to secure the renomination of President Lincoln render necessary some counteraction on the part of those uncon ditional fr ends of the Union who differ from the policy of action of the people it was both wise and patriotic for all true friends of the government to devote their influence to the suppression of the robellion. But when it becomes Svident that party machinery and official influence are being used to accure the perpetuation of the present administration, those who conscientionally believe that the interests of the country and of freedom demand a change in fivor of vg. and purity and maionality have no choice but to appe I at once to the people be ore it shall be too late to secure a fair discussion of principles.

Those in behal, of whom this communication is mate have thought-uity surveyed the political field, and have servived at the following couch sions:—

1. That, even were the re-alection of Mr. Lincola desirable, it is practically suppossible against the union of influences which will appose him.

2. That, should be be re-cleeted, his manifest tendency towards compromes and temporary expedients of policy

2. That, should be be re-elected, his manifest tendency towards compromise, and temporary expedients of policy will become stronger during a second term than it has been in the first, and the cades of bearan liberty and the dignity and heaves of the nation suffer propert onately; white the war may continue to issue use fluring his whole administration, the the gubbs debt shall become a burden too great to be brie.

3. That the patronage of the government, through the Decestrates of the war, has been so rapidly increased, and to such an enormous extent, and so loosely placed, as to reader the application of the "one term principle" absolutely essential to the certain as ety of our republican institutions.

lutely essential to the certain salety of our republican institutions.

4. That we fluid united in Hon Salmon P. Chase more of the qualities needed in a President during the next four yoars than are combined in any other available candidate; his record, clea and unimpeaclable, showing him to be a states in of rare ability and an administrator of the very highest order, while his private character furmishes the surgest obtainable guarantee of economy and purity in the minagement of public affairs.

5. That the discussion of the Presidential question, already commenced by the Friends of Mr. Lincoln, has devoloped a popularity and strength in Mr. Chase unex pected even to his warmest, dimirers, and while we are aware that this strength is at present unorganized and in no condition to manifest his real magnitude, we are sat a fied that it only needs systematic and initially effort to develop it to an extent sufficient to overcome all opposing obstacles.

For these reasons the triends of Mr. Chase have determined on measures which shall present his claims fairly and at once t the country. A central organization has been effected, which aircady has its connections in all the States, and the object of which is to enable his triends everywhere mist elecatually to promote his elevation to the tresidency. We wish the hearty co-operation of all those in favor of the speedy restoration of the thion upon the basis of universal freedom, and which desire an administration of the government during the first period of its new life which shall, to the fullest extent, develop the capacity of free institutions, enlarge the rejorces of the country, diminish the burdens of Caxation, clevate the standard of public and private smorality, vindicate the honor of the republic before the world, and in sit thus make our American nationality the fairest example for imitation which human progress has ever achieved.

If these objects meet your approval you can render efficient aid by exerting yourself at once to organize your section of the country and by corresponding with the Chairman of the National Executive Committee, for the purpose either of receiving or imparting information, Vory respectivity.

THE GOTTSCHALK CONCERT.

To alght Gottschalk gives one of his delightful concerts t Niblo's Saloon. The eminent planist will be assisted on this occasion by a number of most popular artists.

Mue. D'Augri, the offebrated contraito; Miss Barnetche, the planist; Mr. George Simpson and Carlo Patti, Signor Abello and J. Behreds will conduct the concert. The programme is varied and most attractive.

Gorman, twenty years of age, was arrested by officer Golden, of the Sixtu preciact, charged with stealing two hundred and ten delfars, in bank bills, from William Smith, or the Shakepere Hotel. Smith accompanied a strange female to a house in North William street, and while there in a room together he fell asleep. He subsequently awake and caught Detkin in the room examination but spantaloons pockets, but the tennale had departed. Smith jumped out of bed and serzed the prisoner, and am examination of his pants pockets showed that his specketobe k and contents had been abstracted. Two ten deliar bills were sound on the floor where betkin stood, the nonesy being a portion of that taken from Smith. The latter then, unassisted, marched the accused to the Keeper's office at the Tombs, and was there told to go before a magistrate, but on leaving the office Detkin ran of and eccepted. Officer Golden afterwards found the prisoner at his house, in North William street, Justice Hoga; committed Detkin to the Tombs for trial.

Allead R. Emert in Welliam Street.—Three mon, givorman, twenty years of age, was arrested by officer

Saturday evening Norton was in the house 205 William street, and there met thag prisoners. He swears that Wilson came up and with a sat blow in the face kneet: d him down, and while prestrate on the Boor the three, by lorce and violonce, robbed him of the above named property, after which they decamped but a prompt alarm restricted in the arrest. The prisoners deny their guilt, but on Norton's sufficient Justice lingua committed them to the Tembs for examination.

evenings since Mr. Eber B. C. Wright, of 372 Broadway, was in a Greene street drinking saloon, when a third abstracted a wailet containing $20 in cash from his pocket. The third, being caught in the act, was requested by Mr. Wright to return the incusy, whereupon to returned this wailet to Mr. Wright's pocket, minus the contents. Observing soveral suspicious characters of the piace. Mr Wright deemed produces the better part of valor, and left writhout asking for his money. Heigh in the saloon occure of inbudway and Franklin street on Saturday a termoon, Mr. Wright saw the individual who releved from of his cash, and camed his arrest by officer McGrath, of the Sixth presenct. The piris ner gave his name as Wm. H. Lansing, says he is a speculator, and lives at No. 95 Frince affect. Justice Hogan Committed him to the Tombs for trial.

Busino in an Oysten Saloon.—Mary Sey mour, a Park wheel beauty, was arrested by officer Weill, of the Sixth preclosury, was arrested by officer Weill, of the Sixth was in a Greene street drinking saloon, when a thief ab

On the evening of the 25th ult. Bradiey took Mary to the refreshment saloon corner of Cratham and Pearl streets, and while there it is alleged she took the money from his pocket and left. The less was not discovered till Mary had gone, and Bradiey did not see her again till Saturday evening. She was committed by Justice Hogan. Mary denies her golft, but Bradiey positively identifies her as the woman who stole his money.

DETECTION OF SHOPLIFTERS .- Payld and Albert Steinfelt both Germans, of 205 Broome street, were arrested by offloor Fields, of the Fifth precinct, charged with stealing from the store of Horace B. Claffin & Co., co ner of West Broadway and Worth street. Late on Saturday afternoon the prisoners entered the store, under the pretence of wishing to make some purchases, and while there Mr.
Daniel C. Spencer, one of the attaches, caught them in the act of "dirting" a quantity of goods and stowing them may in their pockets. Officer Fields was immediately sont for, and, searching the prisoners, found the stolen goods in their possession. After reaching the station house Captain Petty directed the officer to search the defendants' premises, and in doing so goods, consisting of sewing sliks, thread, velvet trimmings, pearl buttons, thimbes, e.c., valued at about $0.00, all of which are supposed to have been stoies, were found. Mr. Spencer identified a partion of the goods thus ound as having of the found the store, and said they had never been sold to the defandants. Justice Hogan beld the prisoners for further examination.

A Significant Letter from General Fre-

Major General Fremont has written the subjoined letter to the Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs is the House, explanatory of his present position in the army and his removal from active service for so long a army and his removal from active service for so long a time:—

New York, January, 1864.

Gesterat.—The condensed newspaper reperis of the House proceedings in relation to unemployed officers places me in a position which I am not willing to occupy without explaination.

I need hardly say to you that it is not by my own wish that I have been unemployed for the past sixteen months. I requested to be relieved from my command in the Army of Virginia because I regarded the order when reduced me to sorve under deneral rope as a most unmerited insoit. It was in the discretion of the President to refuse or grant my request. The granting of the request simply implied a transfer to other duty, and was not to be taken with a penalty attached. That neither the President nor the Secretary of War so regarded my conduct, it would be sufficient to mention the repe ated assurances I have received from both that they were endeavoring to give me a command so soon as it could be done; and the advitional fact that about the close of the last season of Conpress a highly important command was expressay arranged for me by the Secretary of War. The command tiself and my destination to it received the approbation of the President; but it was finally given to has the officer.

Under the condition, therefore, of waiting orders, I have reasonably been desired to the sufficient of a first processor. From the beginning of the war they have been in our service, as small number of our first power of the surface of the last sead by the continue in the surface of the processor. From the beginning of the war they have been in our service, and lest comformable war they have been in our service, and lest comformable war they have been in our service. As respects their relief in the surface of the s guished and valuable service, and have been always ready to do it again.

As rezards my pay, I think it right to say, since that question has been raised, that since the close of the last season of Congress I have considered it a fund to be applied where it might a leviate distresses resulting from the war, and it has been used accordingly. I have regularly drawn it, because I consider it something belonging with my commission, and I do not wish to seem by any negrect to acquisesee in my position of forced retirement from axmy duties. But it has merely passed through my hands back to the people from whom I received at and this use of it I think I have the right to make. Respectively your election servant.

To Hon. Major General Robert C. Schenck, Chairman Military Committee.

monkeys, from Astley's, London, will appear at this establishment this week. They are highly spoken of, and we hope they will be worth seeing; for there has been considerable room for improvement in the Hippo-theatron performances. Long Greek words butter no any more than a handsome frame makes up for a bad circus than Mr. Cooke has given us hitherto, and we ad vise him to take this gentle hint, and reform matters.

An expert detective is called on to p ay a game of ience with men whose wits are sharpened by need, fear and practice; and the contests between skill and roguery in which he en ages are attractive to all ages and conditions of people. The selection here made from detective experience is an exceedingly good one, and serves not only to give the reader intense gratheation, but conveys a clear idea of the annuals of crime in a large city, without being repulsive or demoralizing.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

A report from Washington was current last week to the effect that our government was preparing a protest against the French occupation of We are not prepared to credit the rumor, because we believe Mr. Seward is too sagacious a diplomat to permit the country to drift into difficulties with foreign nations while we have upon our hands the work of suppressing the rebellion; but if it should subsequently prove true, we think the question will force itself upon the minds of financiers as well as statesmen whether, after such a protest has been entered, we are likely to' be in a proper position to stand by it and to enforce it. If Secretary Chase, when he entered upon the duties of his office, had based his financial policy upon taxation as the source of revenue, instead depending entirely upon borrowing and bonds, the patriotism of the people would have prompted them to have cheerfully submitted to the burthen thus imposed, and our national debt would consequently be less than one-half what it is to-day. Then we would be in a condition, financially, not only to demand redress from the Br tish government for the many wrongs which have been inflicted upon us through her money-grasping shipbuilders and Southern sympathizing aristocracy, but to boldly to the French Emperor and to the world our determination to maintain the Monroe doctrine, regardless of the consequences that might ensue. But we have been already overloaded with debt, and the continuance of the borrowing system is reducing our power to a certain degree on each succeeding day. It requires all the ordinary revenues of the government to meet its ordinary expenses, and taxation must at last be resorted to to pay the interest and principal of our present liabilities. The credit of the country has nearly reached its limit, and under all the accumulated burthens that are upon us the people would now he sitate to give their consent to be further taxed to the extent of five or six hundred millions annually to carry on a foreign war of indefinite duration. We now begin to see more of Mr. Chase's blundering. If he had taxed the people as they desired to be, and as he was so often admonish ed to do, to meet the largest share of the expenses of the war when it commenced, it would have cost far less, because money thus raised would have been expended more in accordance with the principles of economy, and the credit of the country would now be on a sufficiently solid basis to warrant the government in taking a decided stand against any and all innovations upon our rights and principles by foreign nations, The folly of the Secretary of the Treasury is beginning to be seen by his friends as well as his political fees. Many of the republican journals are speaking out for the taxation principle, and are informing Mr. Chase that his course is likely to bring ruin upon the country. They tell him that taxation, and that only, can sustain the credit of the nation and preserve the national currency.

SUNDAY, Feb. 21, 1864.
